BRYAN EXPLAINS THAT ROOSEVELT IS NO DEMOCRAT

Sage of Lincoln, Guest of Honor at Banquet, Attempts to Answer Question What is a Democrat to Washington Hosts in After Dinner Speech.

SPEAKS AT A MASS MEETING

Washington, Nov. 27.—William J. Bryan was last night tendered a banquet and reception by "The United Democracy of the District of Columbia." Five hundred democrats partook of the three dollar dinner and more than double that number participated in the reception and feast of oratory which followed. The speech of Bryan, like half a dozen shorter ones in his praise which preceded it, afforded an opportunity for repeated and continued demonstrations of political accord and personal regard for the guest of honor.

Mr. Bryan utilized the occasion to set forth at length the closely reasoned analogy between the policies of President Roosevelt and those he believes should be adopted in the administration of the government. From this view point Bryan's speech was regarded by the democrats who heard it as a decidedly important and timely party deliverance.

Mr. Bryan's subject was "The Point of View" and his speech consisted of illustrations of the difference in the point of view from which questions are examined. He proceeded to point out things which the president has borrowed, Democratic and un-Democratic doctrines which he has advanced. These are: Railroad regulation; enforcement of laws against trusts; advocacy of income tax; recommendation of arbitration in labor disputes. Here, Mr. Bryan says, are four policies which the president has endorsed which are distinctly Democratic, and which were being urged by the Democratic party from five to twelve years before President Roosevelt ever said a word in their favor, and it is a significant fact that they are the very things that have given him popularity.

The speaker then considered the Democratic doctrines which he said the president has not endorsed. Summarized these are:

The election of senators by a direct vote of the people; independence of the Philippines and tariff reform. Bryan then called attention to what he termed "some very un-Democratic doctrines, which the president has announced." First of these is "national incorporation of railroads and other interstate commerce corporations, and this is in line with the school system in California. Democrats insist upon the recognition of the rights of the state over domestic affairs. The ship subsidy is another; an asset currency a third, and fourth, a military spirit entirely out of harmony with Democratic ideas and Democratic ideals."

Mr. Bryan took up each of these various points and dissected them in accordance with his own views and the policy of his party. He praised the president for adopting certain Democratic measures, and criticized him for rejecting others. He was glad to note the growth of reform sentiment in the Republican party, but thought it slow.

The speaker proceeded to discuss the difference between the Republican and Democratic points of view of government, which in brief was that Democrats believed the government should be as near the people as possible and want federal remedies added to, not substituted for state remedies. These he considered directly opposed to the Republican view. The position of the two parties as to trusts, tariffs, regulation of railroads and arbitration of finances were considered in detail. In conclusion he said: "The time is ripe for a Democratic appeal to the Democratic sentiment of the country. There is no doubt that a large majority of the people take a Democratic rather than an aristocratic view of government and of society. All that we have to do is to convince the people that the party can be trusted to be Democratic if entrusted with powers. I believe that in coming to congress our Democratic senators and representatives will prove themselves equal to the task imposed upon them and demonstrate principles. With the united party we can face a divided opposition and enter the campaign with the assurance of victory."

Spoke at Labor Meeting. Washington, Nov. 27.—William J. Bryan and Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, were the principal speakers at a mass meeting here.

WANDERED AWAY FROM HOME AND RETURNED WITH THROAT CUT—SLIGHTLY BEWILDERED

Mr. Ashley Robertson Was Absent Twenty-Four Hours and Had Strange Experience.

With his clothing covered with blood from a knife wound in the neck, Mr. Ashley Robertson, a well known citizen, appeared at his home at Ninth and Clay streets this morning at 7 o'clock after having been unaccountably absent 24 hours. Mr. Robertson resigned several months ago as a member of the school board from the Second ward and was sent to the asylum at his own request, as he feared that he was losing his mind. After remaining at the institution several weeks he returned home and was believed to have been permanently cured, but recently became worse again, but was not thought to be in a dangerous condition. Yesterday he left his home, saying he believed he would go to his father's farm in the country for a few days' rest and nothing more was heard of him until yesterday afternoon, when his father came to the city and reported that his son was not at the farm. Mrs. Robertson became alarmed and informed the police, but all search for him was unavailing, until he came home with the wound in his throat.

He said he met a party of hunters beyond Lang park and that they took his knife away from him and cut his throat. He said that when he came to himself it was dark and he was unable to find his way out of the woods until daylight this morning. Mr. Robertson's unfortunate condition is deeply deplored by his many friends and a close watch will be kept on his movements until he recovers from the dementia, which is believed to be only temporary.

St. Louis, Nov. 27.—Covered with his life's blood, Philip Smith, 22 years old, saved his mother's life after she had tried to kill him. The mother, Mrs. E. B. Smith, who is believed to be insane, early today crept into her son's room and cut his throat from ear to ear. He struggled with her, but lost strength and she escaped from him and rushed to a neighbor. Her son followed and held her from jumping in the water until aid came. The woman was taken to a hospital. The son will recover, but is now weak from loss of blood.

NO LONGER AUTOCRAT

St. Petersburg, Nov. 27.—The duma decreed that the title of autocrat, which has been borne by the emperor of Russia for centuries, is no longer tenable within the Russian state and is incompatible with the regime inaugurated by the manifesto issued by Emperor Nicholas on October 30, 1905. At the close of a great constitutional debate the Russian parliament by a vote of 112 to 246, rejected the word "autocrat."

ED MANN HELD

Metropolis, Ill., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—Ed Mann, the young man charged with criminally assaulting Mary Robinson a few nights ago, waived examination in police court this morning, and was held to the grand jury under bond of $1,000. His father, Ernest Mann, Thomas Stewart and I. R. Sturges being his bondsmen. The grand jury meets in January. Miss Robinson was not able to attend the hearing.

Two couples were married here today. Thomas Thompson, a blacksmith of Paducah, and Miss Lela Deavers, of the same city, were married by Magistrate Liggett.

T. O. Jenkins and Cornelia Dunbar, both of Princeton, Ky., were also married.

THE WEATHER.

RAIN

Rain tonight, except fair in extreme east portion. Warmer, Thursday rain. Highest temperature yesterday, 60; lowest today, 34.

His Ideal

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Col. Pink Marshall Hardesty, from a portion of the state of Kentucky to the jury unknown, came yesterday to Chicago to seek the owner of a face that had appealed to him from the label of a bottle that had contained a certain brand of rye whiskey. The colonel found the face, but he also found that it was the property of another. Miss Bonnie Delario, 1462 Roscoe street, was the original. The colonel went to that address and sought the girl. He found that she was the wife of Leo Burkham and that his dream of happiness was at an end.

DELAYED BY DERAILMENT

A derailment of fourteen cars of a freight train at McHenry station, above Central City, last night caused passenger No. 103, from Louisville, to be seven hours late. A like accident last Saturday at Graham's, a few miles above McHenry, caused a delay of several hours. The derailment last night was caused by a dango breaking, while the train was running at a slow speed.

THE INFANT DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. HOLLAND DIES.

The two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holland, of 1125 North Twelfth street, died yesterday morning at 7 o'clock. The funeral was this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

STREET CAR AND WAGON COLLIDED

In a collision this morning between a Third street car, in charge of Motor man "Duke" Williams, and a wagon at Third and Washington streets, Samuel Bryant, 1214 South Seventh street, driver of the wagon, was thrown out and sustained a broken collar bone and Rolfe Bryant, his companion, was bruised and sustained a sprained ankle. Neither the horse nor the wagon was damaged. Bryant was driving across the track when the collision occurred.

FRISCO CHIEF SUSPENDS DINNAN

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 27.—His sixty days' leave of absence having expired, former Chief of Police Dinnan reported for duty this morning to Chief Biggy. He was notified that he had been reduced to rank from sergeant to corporal and was then suspended from the force until legal decisions are reached on the charges of conspiracy and perjury pending against him.

SHEET METAL WORKERS ENGAGE IN PISTOL FIGHT

R. L. Whitte and Ed Love, sheet iron workers employed at the Fowler-Wolfe shops on Broadway, engaged in a fierce fight yesterday afternoon and Love was badly beaten up by Whitte's fists. The men surrendered to the police and the trial of the case will be heard Saturday, Love being unable to attend court today.

FARMERS' UNION OFFICIALS MEET WITH PRESIDENT

Washington, Nov. 27.—R. F. Duckworth, of Atlanta, Ga., chairman of the legislative committee of the National Farmers' union, and C. T. Ladson, consulting attorney for the union, met President Roosevelt and Secretary Clegg at the executive office and discussed remedies for financial depression. After the interview, Messrs. Duckworth and Ladson issued a statement, in which they expressed their satisfaction at the fact that the views of the president and the views of the National Farmers' union would probably coincide and that the union would pursue its own campaign methods to urge members of congress to act.

Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou announced today that 90 percent of the money paid for the $50,000,000 of Panama bonds would be redeposited with the banks subscribing. This means that of the $50,000,000, the treasury will receive the use of only $5,000,000 in cash. For this the government will pay 2 percent interest ($100,000) on the whole amount, or 20 percent on the actual amount of cash it will have.

Deep Waterway.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27.—Deep water legislation came in earnest today when the senate passed, without the emergency clause, the Allen-Lantz navigability bill empowering the governor and attorney general to proceed to remove all obstructions from the Des Plaines and Illinois rivers. While the senate was enacting this bill of legislation the house sent to a second reading another bill introduced by Lantz providing that no dam or other obstruction shall be placed in either of these waterways without express authority from the legislature.

Action came immediately after Gov. Deenen had laid before the body his special message on the subject.

Quiet Tomorrow in All Lines of Work in Paducah

Stores, Schools, Shops, Banks, Postoffice and Public Offices Will Be Closed in General Observance of Day—Services at Churches.

FOOTBALL IN THE AFTERNOON

Thanksgiving will be observed tomorrow in Paducah more strictly than it ever has been before. All the retail stores will close, and, of course, the banks, postoffice, where usual holiday hours will be observed, the railroad shops and most city and county offices, most of the manufacturing concerns and all other enterprises.

School closes for the week tonight. The Sun will get out a noon edition, giving all the news of the day up to that time. Since the holiday is being observed everywhere else as well as here, there will be little news, unless in the nature of some calamity, in which event The Sun will be in shape to handle the news as it comes in.

Many of the churches will have special services. Next year, it is understood, a movement will be instituted to have union Thanksgiving services at two or three different places.

Tomorrow morning the First Presbyterian, the First Christian, Grace Episcopal, First Baptist and Cumberland Presbyterian churches will have services at the usual hours. At night the German Lutheran and German Evangelical churches will have services. Sunrise prayer meeting will be held at the Mechanicsburg Methodist church, followed by an Old Folks' prayer meeting at 2 o'clock and services at 7:30.

At the Kentucky avenue Presbyterian the Christian Endeavor society will have sunrise prayer meeting.

Tomorrow afternoon a football game will be played at League park between the Colleyes and the Cairo, Ill., team. Many hunting parties have been organized, and other amusements planned for the remainder of the day.

Mrs. Turner will talk to the children in the public library tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The city and freight offices of the I. C. railroad and of the N. C. & St. L., will be closed all day Thanksgiving.

MINISTERS ARRIVING

The Rev. G. T. Sullivan and family will arrive this evening from Paris, Tenn., and will be at the parsonage, 109 North Seventh street. The ladies of the Broadway Methodist church will have dinner served for them and the parsonage in attractive order to welcome them.

The Rev. H. B. Terry will arrive this week to assume the pastorate of the Third Street Methodist church. His daughter Katherine has been ill of pneumonia.

J. B. FOSTER DIES

Smithland, Ky., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—After five days' illness of paralysis, Mr. J. B. Foster, one of the best known farmers of Livingston county, died last night at his home 15 miles from here. He did a hard day's work Thursday last, and awoke the next morning paralyzed in his legs. He grew rapidly worse until the end. Among his children are Mrs. Charles Retter, 1711 Madison street, Paducah; Mrs. E. R. Goodloe, Little Cypress, and O. L. Foster, a hardware dealer of Carrollton. The funeral took place today at the Builey Bluff cemetery.

MISS EDITH ROOT AND U. S. GRANT MARRIED TODAY

Washington, Nov. 27.—Guests and members of the wedding party have assembled for the marriage of Miss Edith Root, to Lieut. U. S. Grant III., at the home of the bride's parents this afternoon at 4 o'clock. It will be elaborate. Many gifts were received, among them a painting from the Roosevelt's of the south portico of the white house, where the courtship began.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Dandy Dixie Minstrels.

The Dandy Dixie minstrels next Friday will be presented at the Kentucky, a genuine all-colored minstrel aggregation known as the "Dandy Dixie Minstrels." The company has been accorded the endorsement of both white and colored patrons wherever presented in the south. In fact the notices from the southern press are most commendatory for the excellence and cleanliness of the performances by this company.

The Tampa, Fla., Daily Times, of February 18, contained the following notice:

"One of the best minstrel performances ever seen in Tampa was that of the Dandy Dixie minstrels, who appeared at the Tampa Bay Casino Saturday night. Owing to the excellence of the show, the performance will be given tonight. Hundreds of white people enjoyed the performance Saturday night as much as did the colored people in the gallery."

"Parsifal."

One of the most striking and beautiful features in the spectacle of "Parsifal" which comes to the Kentucky Saturday, is the flower garden scene with its fascinating flower maidens. This garden, is the creation of Klingsor for the deliberate purpose of seducing the Knights of the Holy Grail from their lives of rectitude and holiness. But it is in the attempted destruction of the soul of the hero himself, Parsifal, where Klingsor puts forth his greatest effort.

IN ADMIRALTY.

Henry Murphy, et al., vs. Gasoline boat "Eunice, etc., in admiralty. Whereas a libel was filed in the District Court of the United States, for the Western District of Kentucky, at Paducah on the 25th day of October, 1907, by Henry Murphy, et al., vs. Gasoline Boat Eunice, her engines, tackle, apparel, furniture, etc., and owners, alleging in substance that said boat is indebted to them in the sum of $75 for salvage, and that same has never been paid, and prays process against said Gasoline Boat Eunice, that same may be condemned and sold to pay said claim with cost and expenses.

Now, therefore in pursuance to the motion under seal of said court, to me directed, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming said boat Eunice, or in any way interested therein, that they be and appear before the district court of the United States in the city of Paducah, Ky., on or before the 2nd day of December, 1907, at 10 o'clock a. m., of that day, then and there to interpose their claims and make their allegations in that behalf.

ills of Script bring Premium at Local Retail Stores—Gold Coins
That Are Dirty.

The money stringency is bringing out all sorts of quaint coins. Gold that bears the unmistakable marks of dirt, showing that it has been buried, paper money with the odor of old soap and odd silver of every description. One man in paying for purchases at one Broadway store this week tendered some script "small change." He had a five-cent bill, a ten, fifteen, twenty and twenty-five cent bill, and they were readily accepted. Some of the clerks in the establishment wanted them and paid a premium for them. It is safe to say this is the first paper money of less than the dollar denomination seen for some time in this vicinity.

MAYFIELD.

Burglars got busy in Mayfield Monday night and broke into the coal office of Delbert Gilman, west of the freight depot, and then made an attempt to prize open the south end door of the freight depot.

Entrance to Mr. Gilman's office was effected by breaking the glass in the window. The roll top desk was prized open and somewhat damaged and a tin box containing about $3 secured. The box, which was locked, was taken out by the burglars and burst open. It was found by Officer Albritton, Waldrop and Delbert Gilman behind some logs near the R. F. Wright tobacco barn in a dilapidated condition.

Police officers have been working for a clue since early in the morning but have so far failed to find anything.

For the past two weeks Chief McNitt states that box cars containing merchandise have been entered and hereafter a closer watch will be placed around that section.—Messenger.

Breaks the Record.

Probably the largest hog ever brought to Mayfield to sell was Tuesday when Dick Bailey, of Dublin, brought one to G. L. Rule, the butcher, weighing 550 pounds. This hog brought $39.70 in cash. The hog was dressed ready for the carving knife.

Stroke of Paralysis.

Hon. B. A. Neale is lying at his home, South and Fifth streets, in a critical condition as a result of a stroke of paralysis. His face is affected and he is unable to speak so that he can be understood. Last Friday Mr. Neale suffered a slight stroke and fell in his coal house. He was found there later by Mrs. Neale and conveyed to his room, where he has since been and appears to be growing worse.

Hay Stack Burns.

As a result of either carelessness or pure vandalism a stack of hay belonging to Willard Cole was destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon in the field across the creek from the fair grounds. There was about 3,000 pounds or more in the stack and was worth $25 or more. It is supposed that some boys who generally congregate there on Sundays either accidentally dropped a lighted match or set it on fire.

Quite the Contrary.

Mrs. Gay—No, at least from the way he talks after the race, I shouldn't say there were favorites.

TAFT BARELY ESCAPES WRECK.

Emergency Brakes Stop Engine With In 15 Feet of Another Train.
Krasnojarsk, Nov. 27.—It develops that the express carrying Secretary Taft's car narrowly escaped a wreck in East China. A switching error sent an eastbound passenger train on the same track heading toward the express. Both were running thirty miles an hour. It was dark and snowing. The engineer of the express saw a headlight, whistled and applied the emergency brakes. The engines were fifteen feet apart when they stopped. Information of the affair was withheld from the passengers. Secretary Taft was surprised to learn the facts from railway directors, who called on him today.

Need Medicine?

For Women's Ills

When you need a medicine for women's ills, we urge you earnestly to take Cardui.

Cardui is a woman's medicine. It is not for men, nor even for such women as do not suffer from any of the ills peculiar to women.

It is not a cure-all, but a genuine medicine, of real scientific value in certain forms of disease—the diseases to which only women are liable.

Hence, you should take Cardui, if sick, when you feel that you are suffering in this way, and you may take it in perfect safety and in confidence.

Mrs. Bettie Arp, of Menlo, Ga., writes: "I have been using Cardui with the greatest benefit. I was troubled with female complaint for twelve (12) months. The doctors treated me for four months. They did me but little good, so I took Cardui and I believe it saved my life."

South Dakota Federal Patronage Settled in Unique Way By Roosevelt.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—The newest method of dispensing federal patronage was exemplified by President Roosevelt. There is nothing complex or intricate in the process, which consists in the simple expedient of drawing lots or tossing a coin.

Senators Gamble and Kittredge, both of South Dakota, have been as sword's points politically for a long time. They are Republicans, but each has sought to eliminate the other from the stage of politics with the result that while both still are in the senate all federal appointments have been tied up.

President's Joke Bears Fruit.
At 10 o'clock Senators Gamble and Kittredge met in the president's office. Neither knew the other was to be there.

"Gentlemen," Mr. Roosevelt said, "I have determined upon a simple method of settling your differences. In one hand I hold a long piece of paper. In the other I hold a short piece of paper. Whoever draws the longer piece of paper shall have first choice in the appointment of public land officers in South Dakota. There are eleven of these officers to be appointed. The one who draws the long piece of paper shall name six and the other senator may name five."

The president waved his closed fists in the air.

"I will you first choice, Senator Kittredge," he said.

"Left hand," responded Kittredge. Kittredge Wins First Prize.
The president slowly opened the hand indicated. A strip of white paper lay upon his palm. Then he opened his right hand. The slip of paper that lay upon the right palm was shorter than the other slip.

"You win," Senator Kittredge, he said.

Senator Kittredge smiled. Senator Gamble smiled, too, but it was not a merry smile.

"The next number on the program," resumed the president, "is the selection of two Indian agents."

Senator Kittredge watched the presidential digits out of the corner of his eye.

"You guess again, Kittredge," said Mr. Roosevelt, as he brought his closed fists into view.

"Left," came from Kittredge.

"No, it is Senator Gamble who is left," cried the president.

Vacancies Vanish Fast.
And so it went. Senator Kittredge won an auditor of the interior department and a bank examiner, while Senator Gamble played the long slip for an internal revenue collector and a district attorney.

The honors, however, were with Mr. Kittredge, and he named the majority of South Dakota federal appointments.

FLURRY MAY FREE PRISONER.

Los Angeles Police Unable to Pay Bail Fare From New Orleans.

New Orleans, Nov. 27.—Scarcely of money to defray the expenses and the numerous bank holidays are the excuses which the police at Los Angeles offered to the police of New Orleans for not sending for a prisoner who has been held here for several weeks at the request of the California authorities. The prisoner, C. M. Barkley, was arrested here on the charge of uttering fraudulent checks. Barkley, who is said to be the son of a wealthy Californian, is also wanted by the police at Aguanga, California, Mexico, on charges of uttering bad checks.

ALWAYS WAS SICK.
When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup? Such a man exists. Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Col., writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." Sold by J. H. Schlichter, Lang Bros. and C. O. Ripley.

Detroit, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Dorcas J. Ruthman was found dead in her room, landman and illuminating gas having caused death. She had been dead three days, and that it was a case of suicide is apparent from the fact that in the room was found a newly made will. By this document she disposed of her property, giving $1,000 to the Detroit Cat club for the care of friendless cats and $1,000 for the care of other animals. Her life, which had been embittered by the enmity of others, was devoted to the care of dumb animals.

Musical Sensation.
Milwaukee has a genuine musical sensation in the person of Vilma Schaeffer, a girl of nineteen, with a voice whose range is five full octaves. (I above that, Miss Billy van Tassel end of the piano keyboard.) The girl is a ward of the Children's Home society. She was a few weeks ago from her father's home in Oakes, where she had been compelled to sing at all hours for the entertainment of customers. SUCCEEDS MITCHELL

NINE WORKERS TO CHOOSE NEW PRESIDENT NEXT MONTH.

Thomas L. Lewis and W. B. Wilson
Apply to Office Laid Down By Head of Organization.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 27.—The members of the United Mine Workers' organization will hold their annual election the second week in December. There are but two candidates who hope to succeed President John Mitchell, who will retire next April. These candidates are Thomas L. Lewis, vice-president of the organization, and W. B. Wilson, who has for several years held the office of secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers.

John P. White, of Oskaloosa, Iowa, is the only candidate for vice-president. Mr. White is a well-known western miner. There are two candidates for secretary-treasurer. They are W. D. Ryan, of Springfield, Ill., and John P. White, of Oskaloosa, Ia. John Mitchell's name is in the list as a candidate for American Federation of Labor delegate.

Meeting at Madisonville.

JEFF DAVIS SAYS HE WILL MAKE ROMEO HOWL IN SENATE

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 27.—Senator Jeff Davis left last night for Washington to attend the opening session of congress. In his suit case were two bills which he says he will introduce at the first opportunity. One is a copy of the anti-trust law passed by the legislature of 1905 before it was "emasculated" by the last legislature. This "emasculated" law embraced the repeal of the drastic insurance clause and the substitution of the Lee Browning bill.

Senator Davis says if the senate does not pass his bill in an early date he will tell the American people what he thinks of the body. The senator's other hobby is the Moore-Harrell anti-fur bill passed by the last legislature. He says when this bill is introduced and put on its final passage, the farmers of the United States will know who their friends are in the United States senate. "He says he will 'make Romeo howl' if any effort is made by the senate committee to pigeon-hole his measure."

SCHOOL BUILDING

WILL BE COMPLETED BY FIRST OF THE WEEK.

Satisfactory Results Secured at Test of Fire in Furnace—Minstrel Show.

The school building at Twelfth and Jackson street will be completed by the first of next week, all the work being already completed with the exception of a few days' painting. A fire was built in the furnace for the first time yesterday and the test showed satisfactory results.

The boys of the High school are arranging to give a minstrel show during the Christmas holidays and will soon begin rehearsal. The boys hope to repeat the success of last year.

The schools will dismiss this afternoon till Monday on account of the Thanksgiving holiday and the teachers' meeting at Mayfield. Professor Sugg, Superintendent Carnegie and many other teachers of the city are on the program for the Mayfield meeting.

He Fought at Gettysburg.

Vienna, Nov. 27.—In recognition of the commencement of the sixtieth year of his reign, Emperor Francis Joseph has issued a decree of extensive military amnesty, granting free pardon and the resumption of civil rights to all deserters, fugitives and evaders of military service at home and abroad. Thousands who fled to Anterior to avoid military service will be able to return peacefully to their native country.

The New Gold Coins.

The new $10 gold pieces that "In God We Trust" was omitted, have arrived here. The new coins are bright and beautiful and while they have raised all kinds of criticism no one who saw them refused to take any of them. Such remarks as "I don't like that eagle a little bit; he looks like a rooster," and "That eagle looks sorry; he reminds me of a turkey buzzard in a rain-storm" were heard. Others found fault with the Goddess of Liberty. "She looks like a servant girl who just had a scrap with the cop on the beat." "Her head dress flares out like the end of a frayed duster, and sets like on a of the fright wig you see on the stage" added on other men, "but, I suppose though, it is artistic and all that, but for beauty I prefer the old girl on the other coins."—New York Letter.

A Significant Prayer.

"May the Lord help you make Bucklen's Arnica Salve known to all," writes J. G. Jenkins, of Chapel Hill, N. C. It quickly took the pain out of a felon for me and cured it in a wonderfully short time." Best on earth for sores, burns and wounds. 25c at all druggists.

Daily Thought.

Judge not!
What looks to thy dim eyes a stain,
In God's pure light may only be
A scar brought from some well-worn field
Where thou wouldst only faint and yield.

—Proctor.

With Chicago and New Orleans
both in the throes of a dry wave, it may be necessary to dig that irrigation ditch through the valley more than 14 feet deep.The settlement of the Hawley-Meadows litigation is one of the most comprehensive compromises on record.
It compromises everything and everybody involved.Paducah merchants are displaying a sensible as well as a patriotic spirit in closing all day tomorrow. The clerk no doubt will appreciate the consideration shown by their employers and make up the day's business many fold in loyalty and zeal.

PROGRESS AND ECONOMY.

It sounds right public spirited to talk about the incoming administration and the general council making a record for constructing parks, sewers, streets and other public works, to those who view municipal improvements in the same light as did John Kendrick Bangs' hero in "Municipal Land," who expected the conductor to hand him a nickel when he climbed aboard a public owned street car. We have hopes that the city will be able to extend the park system, as that involves the expenditure of comparatively small sums over an extended period; but Paducah has reached the stage, where it is inadvisable to undertake any project, involving a large expense, without a bond issue.There are streets that need paving, and they will not get better as time goes on. There are alleys that need paving much more, and they should be attended to. We are heartily in favor of the sewer district, No. 3, not an arbitrary territory, set off by metes and bounds, regardless of the character of the land and the probabilities of settlement; but of sufficient extent to take in the thickly populated residence section to the north, to discourage the enterprise of black-building real estate men, and to encourage the improvement of available land. But the cost of doing the work as it has been done in other districts would be a grievous burden on many people, who own their own little homes, and little else.
The direct one-assessment plan adds 25 per cent to the cost, because the bidders on the job take that much on to their estimates to cover the delay and expense of collecting. A bond issue for ten years, making the assessment of the cost a lien on the realty in the district, payable in ten annual installments, would solve all the difficulties of sewer building.
The contractor would receive his pay on completion of the work, out of the bond issue, while the city would be made whole in ten years by the property liable for the cost.
The last Republican general coun-oil Paducah had made excellent progress in the way of municipal improvements, and the city's streets and sewers and lighting plant equipment stand as monuments to the capacity of the boards. By rigid economy and scrupulous exactness progress may continue gradually; but the sanitary situation really more urgently demands attention just now. Garbage removal and disposal are inadequate and growing more so, and the streets require sprinkling in the summer. The budget is made up in the winter, when no complaints are heard about such matters. Councilmen and aldermen and the mayor have only in mind ways of cutting down expenses, and as the needs of the sanitary and street sprinkling departments are not pressing in the winter, they usually are slighted.

The new boards will have these matters to attend to as soon as they organize, and they won't have time to consider anything but the welding of the pruning hook then. So let the members be warned and give thought to the summer in advance.

It is a source of gratification to Paducahans to know that this city will keep $100,000 of the state's cash on deposit here. The announced appointment of the Citizens Savings bank as a state depository by State Treasurer-elect Edwin Farley meets with the approval of his fellow townsmen. Western Kentucky is entitled to a large deposit of the state fund, and Paducah is the principal city.

At seventy Andy Carnegie finds himself further from the goal of his ambition than at sixty. He is richer than ever. If being rich and wishing to be poor, is as harrowing as being poor and wishing you were rich, Andy has the sympathy of the great body of his countrymen.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF IT.

E. P. Weston, the professional pedestrian entered Chicago today, after his walk from Maine, and was received with great acclaim. He didn't do anything but walk there. He accomplished no good along the way. His time and manner of walking will not be of any value to posterity. It will not revolutionize the methods of transportation, nor minimize the dangers of travel. Every hour gilded palace cars pour their bunnies freight into the narrow chutes of Chicago streets, and the individuals are swallowed up in the crowds of the city, unnoticed except by confidence men and highway robbers. Some of them are men of more prominence than Weston. All are just as good citizens. And, yet, they will be ignored, while he will be interviewed and taken in an automobile to see how the stock yards have grown in 40 years. It discloses a great principal of human nature. If you would attract attention, ride where others walk, or walk where others ride.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT.

Preachers' lives would be a awful time if it wasn't for weddings.

Let the other fellow have his way, as long as it is only talk.

"You don't take any stock in all this criticism of our $10 gold pieces?"
"None whatever," answered the young man who has read law. "In any case it's more hearsay evidence."
—Washington Star.

"The only thing I can recommend in your case," said the surgeon, "is a long journey."
"Well, if it's to be, Doc," the patient groaned, "get out your whitening tools and go ahead with the operation."
—Chicago Record-Herald.

WHAT OF THAT?

"Tired? Well, what of that? Didn't fancy life was spent on beds of ease, Fluttering the rose leaves scattered by the breeze
Como, rouse thee! work while it is called today!
Towards, arise! go forth upon thy way.

Lonely! And what of that?
Some must be lonely! 'Tis not given to all

To feel a heart responsive rise and fall,
To blend another life into his own.
Work may be done in loneliness.
Work on!

Dark! well, and what of that?
Didst fondly dream the sun would never set?
Dost fear to lose thy way? Take courage yet!
Learn thou to walk by faith and not by sight;
Thy steps will be guided and thy path right.

Hard! well, what of that?
Didst fancy life one summer holiday,
With lessons none to learn, and no thought but play?
Go, get thee to thy task! Conquer or die!

It must be learned! Learn it then patiently.

No Help! Nay, it's not so!
Though human help be far, thy God is nigh,
Who feeds the raven, hears His children's cry,
He's near to thee, where'er thy footsteps roam,
And He will guide thee, light thee, help thee home."
—INCOGNITO.

BLINDFOLDED

A Mystery Story of San Francisco

BY

EARLE ASHLEY WALCOTT

(Copyright 1906, The Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

"I don't know," she said slowly.
"But you know something," I argued.
"Maybe you know what I know better than I know it myself," growled Mother Horton with a significant glance.
I resigned myself to await her humor.

"Not at all," said I carelessly. "I only know that you've come to tell me something, and that you'll tell it in your own good time."
"It's fine to see that you've learned not to drive a woman," she returned with grim irony. "It's something to know at your age."
I smiled sympathetically upon her, and she continued:

"I might as well tell you the whole of it, though I reckon my throat's as like to be slit over it as not."
"I'll never breathe a word of it," I replied fervently.
"I'd trust ye," she said. "Well, there was a gang across the street to-night—across from my place, I mean—and that sneaking Tom Terrill and Darby Meeker, and I reckon all the rest of 'em, was there. And they was runnin' back and forth to my place, and a-drinkin' a good deal, and the more they drink the louder they talk. And I hears Darby Meeker say to one feller, 'We'll get him, sure!' and I listens with all my ears, though pretendin' to see nothin'. 'We'll fix it this time,' he said; 'the Old Un's got his thinkin' cap on.' And I takes in every word, and by one thing and another I picks up that there's new schemes afoot to trap ye. They was a-sayin' as it might be an idee to take ye as you come out of Knapp's to-night."

"How did they know I was at Knapp's?" I asked, somewhat surprised, though I had little reason to be when I remembered the number of spies who might have watched me.
"Why, Dicky Nahl told 'em," said Mother Horton. "He was with the gang and slugs it out as pretty as you please."

This gave me something new to think about, but I said nothing.
"Well," she continued, "they says at last that won't do, for I'll get 'em into trouble, and I reckon they're arsy-fying over their schemes yet. But one thing I finds out."

Mother Horton stepped and looked at me anxiously.
"Well," I said impatiently, "what was it?"

"They're a-sayin' as how, if you're killed, the one as you knows on'll have to git some one else to look after the boy, and maybe he won't be so smart about foolin' them."

"That's an excellent idea," said I.

"If they only knew that I was the other fellow they could see at once what a bright scheme they had hit upon," said Mother Horton. "There's a heap of things said over the liquor that don't git no further, but you'll be a fool if you don't look out. Now, do as I tell you. You just keep more men around you. Keep eyes in the back of your head, and if you see there's a goin' to be trouble, just you shoot first and ask questions about it afterward. They talked of getting you down on the waterfront or up in Chinatown with some bogus message and said how easy it would be to dispose of you without leaving clues behind 'em."

FULL DRESS FIXIN'S
FOR THANKSGIVING
AND ALL OCCASIONS.

How often do you see a man in evening clothes with some little article of wearing apparel on, too, that violates the ethics of the dress—the wrong collar, the vest, or something just as essential.

Such trifles make one look ridiculous instead of well dressed.

No danger of such things happening to you if you let us fit you out for evening clothes.

The right suit, the right vest, collar, everything will be just as it should be.

OUTFITTERS TO MEN AND BOYS

Now, don't you sleep here without three or four men on guard, and don't you stir round nights with less than four. Send Porter out to get two more men, and tell him to look sharp and see if the coast's clear outside. I reckon I'll slide out if no one's lookin'."

"I've got some men on the next floor," I said. "I thought it would be just as well to have a few around in case of emergencies. I'll have two of them out, and send Porter to reconnoiter."

"Who told you to get your men together?"

"A little idea of my own."

"You've got some sense, after all." The reinforcements were soon ready to take orders, and Porter returned to bring word that no suspicious person was in sight in the street.

"I reckon I'd best go, then," said Mother Horton. "I don't want no knife in me just yet, but if there's no one to see me I'm all right."

I pressed Mother Horton to take two of my men as escort, but she sturdily refused.

"They'd know something was up if I was to go around that way, and I'd be a bloody ghost as soon as they could catch me alone," she said. "Well, good night—or is it morning? And do take keer of yourself, dornie."

And, so saying, Mother Horton shuffled herself up till it was hard to tell whether she was man or woman, and trudged away.

Whatever designs were brewing in the night-meeting of the conspirators, they did not appear to concern my immediate peace of body. The two following days were spent in quiet. In spite of warnings, I began to believe that no new plan of action had been determined on, and I bent my steps to the office that had been furnished by Doddridge Knapp. I hardly expected to meet the King of the Street. He had, I supposed, returned to the city, but he had set Wednesday as the day for resuming operations in the market, and I did not think that he would be found here on Monday.

The room was cold and cheerless and the dining table in law-calf appeared to gaze at me in mute protest as I looked about me.

The doors that separated me from Doddridge Knapp's room were shut and locked. What was behind them? I wondered. Was there anything in Doddridge Knapp's room that bore on the mystery of the hidden boy, or would give the clue to the murder of Henry Wilton? If vengeance was to be mine, if Doddridge Knapp was to pay the penalty of the gallows for the death of Henry Wilton, it must be by the evidence that I should wrest from him and his tools. I had just secured the key that would fit the first door. I had taken the impression of the lock and had it made without definite purpose, but now I was ready to act.

With a sinking heart but a clear head I put the key cautiously to the lock and gently turned it. The key fitted perfectly, and the bolt flew back as it made the circle. I opened the door into the middle room. The second door, as I expected, was closed. Would the same key fit the second lock, or must I wait to have another made? I advanced to the second door and was about to try the key when a sound from behind it turned my blood to water.

Beyond that door, from the room I had supposed to be empty, I heard a groan.

I stood as if petrified, and, in the broad daylight that streamed in at the window, with the noise and rush of Clay street ringing in my ears, I felt my hair rise as though I had come on a ghost. I listened a minute or more, but heard nothing.

"Nonsense!" I thought to myself; "it was a trick of the imagination."

I raised my hand once more to the lock, when the sound broke again, louder, unmistakable. It was the voice of one in distress of body or mind.

I listened with all my ears. Then there came through the door the low, stern tones of a man's voice speaking earnestly, pleadingly, threateningly, but in a suppressed monotone.

Then the groan burst forth again, and it was followed by sobs and choked sounds, as of one who protested, yet, strangely, the voice was the same. There was one man, not two. It was self-accusation, self-exuse, and the sobs seemed to come in answer to self-reproaches.

Then there was sound as of a man praying, and the prayer was broken by sobs; and again I thought there were two men. And then there was a noise of a man moving about, and a long smothered groan, as of one in agony of spirit. Fearful that the door might be hung open in my face, I tipped back to my room, and silently turned the key, as thoroughly mystified as ever I had been in the strange events that had crowded my life since I had entered the city.

GAMBLING DEN'S CHARTER
MAY BE TAKEN FROM IT.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 27.—Following the action of the appellate court today reversing the decision of Judge Banker, who held the charter of the French Lick and West Baden Hotel company could not be forfeited, Attorney General Hughes said that the cases against the French Lick and West Baden Casinos will be pushed by the state as rapidly as possible.

"The ruling of the appellate court," said Bingham, "means that the case will be remanded to the lower courts with the instructions that the stenographer be called to the complaint of William H. Voyles, prosecuting attorney, he overruled. The decision gives us the right to make the law and go ahead with the trial of the cases."

MATRIMONIAL FIRM TO ISSUE FREE CEREMONY.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 27.—The so-called spirit of commercialism has caused a split in the firm of Timmerman & Shore, who sought to control the free marriage business in St. Louis. As a result the Rev. Mr. Shore has opened headquarters for himself.

"Mr. Timmerman was altogether too commercial," explained Mr. Shore today. "He believed money should be paid for the marriage ceremony. I said money should have no place when the question of joining two loving hearts is considered. All I want for my services is a word of thanks."

Mr. Shore is contemplating an aggressive campaign at his new headquarters.

ANGRY MAYOR BLOCKS GRANT.
Dubuque Executive, Called "Name" By Gas Company's President.

Dubuque, Ia., Nov. 27.—Smiling under the assertion that he is a "political philanthropist," a term applied by George McLean, president of the Key City Gas company, while on the stand in a case at Cedar Rapids, Mayor Schunk announced in a signed statement that he would not sign an extension of the gas company's franchise.

Some time ago the company petitioned for a ten year extension of the present franchise. It was granted by the council, but the mayor refused to sign unless compensation was granted. McLean offered free gas to the city between 1922 and 1932. Schunk then demanded immediate compensation and McLean refused.

Today the mayor announced that negotiations are off.

The Body Merely Machine.
There are just any number of diseases in which the Osteopathic is the only treatment that will give any relief at all.

The various phases of neuralgia and rheumatism as an example yield more readily to the Osteopathic treatment than they do to medicine. So too do limbo, chronic headaches, partial paralysis and kindred ailments, and to one who knows the first principles of Osteopathy it is easily to see why this is so.

Osteopathy is a scientific system of exercise for the nerves and organs of the body—simply manipulation by which it restores structural normality. The body is a machine run by unseen forces called life, and that it may run harmoniously it is necessary that there be liberty of blood, nerves and arteries from the generating point to destination. This is what osteopathy does—gives liberty to the blood, nerves and arteries.

Washburn-Mitchell Wedding This Morning.

A beautiful home wedding characterized by a charming individuality and the grace of simplicity, was the marriage of Miss Etta Carl Washburn and Mr. Silas B. Mitchell this morning at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Eva J. Washburn, 1925 Madison street. The bride and a few intimate friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony, which was impressively pronounced by the Rev. G. W. Banks, of the Trimbale Street Methodist church. Miss Minnie Mitchell played the wedding march.

The bride and bridegroom stood in the arched double doorway between the hall and parlor under a cluster of mistletoe. Ferns outlined the doorway and effectively decorated the hall. The parlor was a pretty symphony of white and pink carnations and ferns. The bride, who is an especially pretty and winsome girl, looked charming in an article of brown costume of brown cloth with a silk blouse of harmonizing shades. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses, lilies of the valley and asparagus ferns. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nichols, of Hardwell, a sister and brother-in-law of the bride, were the matron of honor and best man.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in the dining room at a pretty set table. A wedding bell of white carnations and ferns was suspended above the table. Love chairs of similar design extended from the bell to the four corners of the table. The place cards were heart-shaped cards of white tied with white ribbon, with the picture of the bride.

Under Government Supervision Received.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Full details of the work done on the Panama canal during the fiscal year of 1907, with a showing of what has been accomplished since the project has been in American hands, are disclosed in the annual report of the Isthmian canal commission, made public today. It is the first report made of the operations on the isthmus since the construction work has been in charge of army engineers. Aside from $30,000,000 paid the French company and to Panama an aggregate of $48,255,110, has been expended by the government on the project adopted by congress, and while it was estimated by the board of consulting engineers would ultimately cost $129,705,260.

There is no reference in the report to the proposition brought forward to extend the width of the locks to 110 feet so as to accommodate, without difficulty, the extreme breadth in the development of ship building and this will be made the subject of a special communication from the commission. A strong position is taken favorable to the continuation of the policy of doing the work by hired instead of by contract labor, a step at one time seriously considered by the administration, and many arguments are presented to justify the commission in its conclusion that the canal can be built better, cheaper and more quickly by the government. Sanitation, upon which so much depends for the comfort and health of the employees, is treated in the report, and a statement is made of what has been done, and the declaration made that there was no yellow fever originating on the isthmus during the year.

As bearing on the question of the suitability of the foundations for proposed lock sites, the report quoted from the conclusions of the consulting engineers who made a personal examination of the material at the lock sites, and who found that all of the locks of the dimensions thus proposed (55 foot level canal) would rest on rock of such character that it would furnish a safe and stable foundation.

Excavation and Dredging.
This department of construction embraces the Culebra division, extending from the Chagres river to Pedro Miguel, the Chagres division, embracing between deep water in Lake Gatun and the Chagres river, the Colon dredging division, extending from Gatun to deep water in the Atlantic, and the La Boca dredging division, taking in all excavation between the La Boca locks and deep water of the Pacific.

FRENCH KILL 1,200 TRIBESMEN.

Arab Forces Make Fierce Attack on Camp and Meet With Repulse.

Maghnia, Algeria, Nov. 27.—Ten thousand of the fiercest Nassen tribesmen swooped down on the French camp yesterday and were beaten off with a loss of 1,200 killed. The fighting continued for a long time, and was conducted on the part of the tribesmen apparently with total disregard for their lives.

At one time the French infantry were in danger of being surrounded, but they finally disengaged themselves from their perilous position by a most brilliant charge of the Spahis. The rout of the Arabs was completed by vigorous shelling by the artillery. The French loss was eight killed.

The Arabs were not discouraged by this severe repulse, but reformed their forces and in addition directed their efforts to rousing other tribes. The fighting was resumed today. The result of the battle now on are unknown at present.

Montville Flowers' Recital.
Quite a representative audience listened to Mr. Montville Flowers' interpretation of Ben Hur at the Woman's club last night. Mr. Flowers is a finished elocutionist and a scholar, as shown by his intelligent grasp of the plot and story of General Lew Wallace's masterpiece. Mr. Flowers' voice is deep, well modulated and under complete control. His rendition of the dramatic passages in the dialogue, especially the famous chariot race, was stirring.

The Splendid New Serial Story

Satan Sanderson

Satan Sanderson is the true embodiment of the requisites that make a really great story. It gives the reader a look into a little world of action where all of the emotions that make or mar life—and lives—are set in swift, exciting play—one against the other. Incident follows incident with quick succession, and a vivid panorama of intrigue, mystery, love and strange adventure kindles the interest to the fusing point.

Written in a charming style, brilliant in coloring, picturesque in background, faithful in characterization and intensely dramatic, with stirring climax, Satan Sanderson is by all odds the best story of the year.

TWO STORIES

DIFFER AS TOLD BY MOTHER AND BY HER SON.

Mr. George Mayer Shoots and Kills
Her Husband in Their Home in Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 27.—George Mayer, a proof reader on a local newspaper, was found dead at his home, 4336 Champlain avenue this afternoon from the effects of a bullet wound.

Mrs. Mayer told the police that the shooting was accidental, saying the weapon was discharged when her husband attempted to wrest it from her. The fatal struggle was witnessed by their two children, Robert, aged 7, and William, aged 2. The older boy gave the authorities a version of the affair which differs from the story told by his mother. He declared his mother started to quarrel as soon as his father entered the house. The boy said his mother threatened to shoot his father and the latter attempted to seize the weapon.

Mrs. Mayer said her husband was intoxicated and began to quarrel. She showed him the revolver, telling him she had purchased it because he had threatened her life. Mayer grappled with her and when the revolver was discharged fell dead with a bullet in his brain. The mother sent the older boy to the police station for help and when the officers entered the house they found Mrs. Mayer putting the floor with the younger child in her arms. The baby's face was smeared with blood, he having kissed his father after the shooting. Mrs. Mayer is being held by the police pending the outcome of the coroner's inquest.

DIPLOMAT ATTEMPTS TO COMMIT SUICIDE IN VAIN.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—Senator Don Roosevelt M. Bombailler, acting chancellor of the Cuban legation, attempted to commit suicide by inhaling illuminating gas in his quarters at the Douglas apartment house. He is now at the homeopathic hospital and has a chance to recover.

The occupant of an adjoining apartment mented detected fumes coming from Senator Bombailler's rooms shortly before 8 o'clock, and when it was learned that the diplomat had been in to enter a short time before, the police were called and an extra force formed.

Bombailler was found lying unconscious upon his bed, with the gas flowing freely from four jets. He was fully dressed. On a table nearby were two notes, written in Spanish. One was addressed to Senator Padro, charge of the Cuban legation, and the other was a public letter, which read:

"Good-by to everybody. I am going to leave this world because I have not the courage to endure it."

Senator Padro, hastily summoned, had his friend removed to the hospital. Senator Bombailler is about 25 years of age and has been connected with the legation for a year. He has been popular among members of the diplomatic corps, but it is said that disappointment in a love affair may have prompted him to attempt his life. His friends will not discuss this.

Sleep

Sleep is nature's rebuilding period, when the energy used by the brain, muscles and organs is renewed. If you lose sleep, your system is robbed of the strength sleep should give. Continued loss of sleep multiplies this loss until you become a physical wreck. Dr. Miles' Nervine quiets the irritated nerves and brings refreshing, invigorating sleep. Nervine contains no opiates, and therefore leaves no bad after-effects.

"For over two years I suffered untold agonies; my friends thought I was going crazy. I could not sleep nor rest at all. I tried different doctors, but failed to find relief. My head would ache all the time; I was like one drunk; could not concentrate my mind, and was so restless and worried that sleep was out of the question. After taking one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine I felt wonderfully changed. I am now on my third bottle and am gaining all the time. I can lie down and sleep like a child, and am able to do my work."

NIGHT RIDING

CHARGE MADE AGAINST FOUR PROMINENT MEN.

One Accused of Arson, Two Destroying Plant Beds and One Conspiracy.

Clarksville, Tenn., Nov. 27.—A sensation has been caused in this section over the arrest of four prominent citizens of the county on the charge of being connected with one of the depredations in the dark tobacco district. The grand jury has returned indictments against George Sanders, charging him with arson, destroying a tobacco crop and destroying tobacco plants. James Gross and Dr. S. M. Hoskins are charged with destroying tobacco plants and Dave Winters is indicted for an alleged conspiracy in connection with the matters resulting from the tobacco situation. The case against Sanders is the outcome of an investigation made of the burning of a general merchandise store at Fredonia, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars. The store was owned by W. E. Wall, who is a non-association man, and was set on fire after he had been repeatedly warned to join the association. On the same night eight acres of tobacco was pulled up and previous to this time tobacco plant beds were ruined. All of the men except Winters are alleged to have taken part in the destruction of tobacco and tobacco plants.

The greatest interest has been taken in the trial which is set for next Friday, and Judge Tyler has ordered a special venire of forty men summoned, which, with the regular jury, will make a full panel of fifty-two men. Of the extra jurors, twenty will be selected by the sheriff and twenty by one of the sheriff's deputies. The names are to be handed to the sheriff before Tuesday, when they will be held subject to inspection by counsel for both the prosecution and defense. Objections to any of the men composing the venire will be heard Wednesday morning, and if the objections are sustained, Judge Tyler will select other men to fill the vacancies.

On account of the interest in the trial throughout the dark tobacco district, it is expected that hundreds of farmers will be in attendance.

CONFESSES CONFIDENCE GAME.

Englishman Who Engaged 100 Secretaries in Pittsburgh Fooled.

Plasburg, Pa., Nov. 27.—Oscar Frederick Spade, alias Reginald Spaulding, the young Englishman who was arrested on Saturday at the Hotel after having made appointments with over 100 young men who desired to become his secretary on a world tour, each to furnish $500 adhesion today that he formerly lived in New York and Buffalo, and had operated in both places.

Spade was taken to a Hamilton operator, Joseph Lindon. He became dejected, and said that if he had an opportunity he would make away with himself.

Lindon effected to take Spade seriously, and, saying he also was a member of a suicide club, offered to help him. Lindon sent for some lipson pills, and, preparing a glass, handed it to the despondent Spade, who thought it was poison and drank.

Death did not come as expected, and in a short time Spade felt brighter, and laughed when he found the joke.

At the hotel where Spade had arranged for interviews with his prospective secretaries, there was a continuous stream of people inquiring for him. Each applicant had his $500 cash forth ready, and it is estimated that had Spade not been arrested he would have had between $25,000 and $50,000 before night.

PROPOSES ROLE FOR Y. M. C. A.

Being About Better Feeling Between Employer and Employee.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—Secretary Oscar S. Straus spoke at the Y. M. C. A. convention today, taking as his theme, "The Association and the Workingman." He expressed the hope that the association might bring about closer relations between employer and wage worker. He said that there was no lack of present day problems, but that this condition was not because there were more wrongs than in the past, for the rights of the man were never more jealously guarded. Better wages, said the speaker, are paid and more comforts are enjoyed.

The secretary declared that relations between employer and worker cannot be measured by economic laws, but must be determined by the high principles of humanity.

Other speakers today included Christian Philinus, of Geneva, Switzerland, secretary of the world's committee of the Y. M. C. A.; J. H. Putterill, general secretary of London, England; Representative Virgo, of the national council of the Y. M. C. A. of Sydney, Australia, and Dr. Kunikata Sasao, of Japan.

IS RHEUMATISM

CURABLE NOW?

Science Proves it a Symptom of Kidney Trouble and Easily Relieved.

GIVE THIS RECIPE.

Recent hospital reports show that the dread disease, rheumatism, is steadily increasing throughout the country. All known means of relief are being suggested to save the great amount of suffering this winter, especially among those who are not in a position to pack up and visit the noted health resorts to be treated. Recent tests prove rheumatism not exactly a disease in itself, but a severe symptom of kidney trouble, a condition caused by clogged up pores of the eliminative tissues in the kidneys which fail to filter the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, permitting these substances to remain in the veins and decompose, usually settling about the joints and muscles, causing the intense pain, swelling and stiffness of rheumatism.

A well-known specialist, who has probably treated more cases of rheumatism than anyone else, and who is also the most successful, gives the following simple treatment, which is harmless and inexpensive, and so simple that anybody can mix it at home.

The ingredients are: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kagon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Go to any good prescription pharmacy and get these three vegetable ingredients and mix them by shaking in a bottle, taking as a dose a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is nothing better in the world for backache, kidney and bladder trouble, too. Such symptoms as frequent and painful urination, soreness, weakness, general and nervous debility are caused by certain acids and poisonous waste matter, decayed tissue, etc., in the blood, which the kidneys will clear and purify after a few doses of this prescription.

PITS BLAME FOR 27 DEATHS ON DU PONT POWDER CO.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 27.—Utter disregard of human life is charged by Coroner Levett against the Du Pont Powder company in his verdict in the case of the Fontanet Powder mill explosion, in which 27 persons were killed, more than 100 injured and the town of Fontanet practically demolished.

The verdict, in part, is as follows: "This factory was operated with utter lack of regard for human life or safety for others. The magazine was located at such a short distance from the other units of the factory that it made each and every man employed at the mercy of any other employee and where an act of ignorance or negligence of one could kill or injure all."

The verdict also recommends enactment of stringent laws to prevent such disasters in the future.

Its Influence Has Been Felt by So Many Paducah Readers.

The soothing influence of relief. After suffering from itching piles. From Eczema or any itchininess of the skin.

Makes one feel grateful to the remedy.

Doan's Ointment has soothed hundreds.

Here is what one Paducah citizen says:

J. R. Womble, of 1162 Broadway, Paducah, Ky., says: "For years I was a sufferer from itching piles in a very severe form. They were the plague of my life. When I would get heated up they would annoy me terribly and at night I could get no rest. I have often got up and walked around the room. I believe I have tried nearly every remedy that has been on the market but nothing ever gave me the desired relief until I got a box of Doan's Ointment at Da Bois & Co's drug store. The very first application gave me relief and after the second day I could go to bed at night and sleep as peacefully and quietly as anyone. The one-box cured me entirely. It is now about three months since I used it and there has been no sign of a return. I also used the ointment on my hand for a sore and found it very healing." (From a statement given in 1909.)

A Lasting Cure. On Feb. 18, Mr. Womble confirmed the above statement by saying: "I gave a statement in 1909 telling how Doan's Ointment had cured me of a severe case of itching piles. I am glad to confirm that statement at this time as the cure has been lasting. Doan's Ointment is certainly a superior remedy for this trouble or any skin affection."

DEFENSE SCORES

COURT RULES OUT PART OF McLEAN'S TESTIMONY.

More Witnesses in the Walsh Case Deny Signing Memorandum Notes.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—The cross-examination of Frederick W. McLean, former cashier of the Chicago National bank, gave the attorneys for John E. Walsh an opportunity to score several points today. The most important came when the explanation by McLean of reports to the Chicago Clearing House association was excluded by the court on the ground that the former cashier had not personally made out these documents.

The objection by the defense came after McLean had testified that Walsh had directed him to treat the numerous memorandum notes of the bank as direct loans to the parties whose names were signed to them in the bank reports sent to the clearing house and to the controller of the currency. The Walsh attorneys argued that as McLean had not made out the reports in question himself his testimony regarding them was incompetent, and this view was upheld by Judge Anderson. Under cross-examination McLean admitted that the bank examiners were familiar with the collateral on which they were based. He also admitted that he did not turn over cashier's checks to Walsh personally, but gave them to the banker's private bookkeeper, H. B. McKay.

LONE FARMER IN AFRICA.

A German Pioneer Tells of Chances North of the Zambesi.

A German farmer named H. G. Koch has been tilting the soil for four years about 100 miles north of the Zambesi river in Central Africa. No other farmer lives within fifty miles of him.

There are not twenty European farmers in the whole Northwest Rhodesia, a country four times as large as the State of New York. Koch is a pioneer.

He likes the soil and the climate, and is there to stay. His farm is as near the equator as the north part of Central America, but it stands 4,000 feet above the sea and the heat is less oppressive than in many more southern regions.

A few weeks ago Koch talked to a convention of farmers in Southern Rhodesia. They were interested in his story, for he is the first man competent to give valuable testimony on the farming conditions beyond the Zambesi.

He told them he had settled on the surveyed line of the Cape to Cairo railroad, for he knew he could sell his produce when the railroad reached him. Taking in a wagon and a few head of livestock he roamed northward, following the scales of the surveyors, till he reached a region that exactly suited him. There he built a little shack and began to use the plow and other farming implements he had brought in his wagon.

Koch says that the best plow land in the colony is a rich, deep black loam, found in the valleys and in patches of from 100 to 2,000 acres at through the country. It grows the finest corn he ever saw.

Then a gray sandy loam is well adapted for the cultivation of tobacco, cotton and potatoes. All crops with proper cultivation grow splendidly. Garden truck can be raised the year round, and he is raising wheat in winter with success.

A third kind of soil is suitable only for pasture. Grass grows in abundance, cattle keep in good condition the year round, and the climate at that high altitude is mild and pleasant.

Koch's faith has been justified. The Cape to Cairo railroad has been built 100 miles beyond his door. The little station of Katumo has sprung up near his farm. He has a market for all he can raise.

He pays native laborers from $1.25 to $2.50 a month, and thinks his men compare favorably with black labor in Cape Colony. He has no doubt, now that the railroad has been completed to the Broken Hill copper mines, that more farmers will come into the region.

Tribe of Fighting Indians.

"I sojourned for more than a year in Central America, mostly in Honduras, where I went to make a study of the native Indian tribes," said Charles C. Lussauer, of New Orleans. "These aborigines are mostly of warlike mold and as brave fighters as any of the human race. I was especially impressed with the inhabitants of the Copan and Gracias districts. They are the best fighting stock in all Latin America. Three or four hundred of them will often defeat any army of twice their size. They are ever eager for battle and seek nothing of heavy adverse odds. They are supposed to be Christians, but from what I saw and learned of others I came to the belief that they practice heathen rites and ceremonies. They are excellent friends but terrible enemies, and if defeated in battle are apt to visit their wrath on their unfortunate officers."

"These Indians cling to their primitive customs and do most of their hunting with bows and arrows. The way they use the bow is rather unique. They sight their game, calculate the distance and then shoot their arrows into the air, whereupon the weapon falls upon the mark, whether bird or beast, seven times out of ten, with fatal effect. The country they inhabit is quite cold, and often in the morning I have seen a thin coat of ice over the far of water placed on my table. Again, when shivering under two or three blankets, I have looked with envy at my mesozo servant who, stripped to the skin and wrapped only in a thin cotton sheet, slept as comfortably as though in a steam heated apartment."—Baltimore American.

SWEET CHARITY

ENCOURAGED BY GENEROUS DONATIONS TO CLUB.

One School Contributes Money, Clothing and Useful Articles of Apparel.

Mr. Jap Toner, of the Charity club, reported that George L. Allison and A. M. Sanderson, the two gentlemen who bought the millinery stock of the Smith Sisters, gave five dozen hats, some trimmed and others plain, to the Charity club for those who need them.

Miss Emma Morgan, principal of the McKinley school at Mechanicsburg, has taken a collection from the pupils of money, clothing and other useful articles for the benefit of the Charity club. This is the first school to take up charity work.

LODGE OF SORROW

WILL BE HELD BY ELKS AT KENTUCKY THEATRE.

Program of Music, Eulogies, Oration and Ritual Arranged by Order.

Public lodge of sorrow will be held by the Elks in the Kentucky theater Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Those who have passed away since last December are W. Al Bishop Henry Frisz and William J. Dicke.

The program is as follows: Processional, by Deal's band. Invocation, by Rev. J. R. Henry, of the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church.

Address, by Exalted Ruler John T. Donovan.

Quartet, "Crossing the Bar," Mrs. Lella Wade Lewis, William C. Gray, Mr. Slave Mail and Mr. Emmett Bagby.

Eulogies upon brothers W. Al Bishop, Henry Frisz and William J. Dicke, by Hon. J. S. Ross.

Contralto solo, "Abide With Me," Miss Mamie Dryfuss.

Oration, by Sen. J. W. Campbell. Quartet, "There is a Green Hill Far Away," Mrs. Lella Wade Lewis, Mrs. William C. Gray, Mr. Slave Mail and Mr. Emmett Bagby.

"Forget-Me-Not," by the lodge. Musical number, "Largo-Handel," Deal's orchestra.

Closing ceremony. Benediction, by Rev. J. R. Henry. Recessional, by Deal's band.

The membership roll shows that forty-seven members have passed away since the Paducah lodge was inaugurated in 1893. Those dying and the year of their death are:

NEED NO WIDENING.

Chairman Tawney Says the Panama Canal Locks Are All Right.

Washington, Nov. 27.—During his recent visit to Panama in connection with the house committee on appropriations, Chairman Tawney became convinced that there is no necessity of widening the canal. He says that if continued in accordance with the present plans the canal will accommodate vessels 89 feet wide, whereas the widest vessels now proposed are only 85. Tawney says an outlay of six million dollars will be necessary to give the canal any appreciable increase in width and he is of the decided opinion that such an expenditure will not be necessary.

TOBACCO TRUST

FIXES BUYING POLICY BY COMMITTEE OF FOUR.

Testimony Before Government Commission as to Methods of Competition.

New York, Nov. 27.—During the government's investigation of the American Tobacco company before United States Commissioner Shields today, Thomas H. Yuliffe, head of the leaf buying department, told how the company fixed the price paid growers in order to regulate the supply. A committee of four directors, he said, determines the company's purchasing policy. The buying is started at an average price which is raised if the leaf is coming in slowly and lowered if the supply is too great.

According to his testimony, the American Tobacco company has buyers in every market in the United States, but does not attempt to control its competitors' buying in any of them. The chief competitor, Mr. Yuliffe said, were the Imperial Tobacco company, of Great Britain, and the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company.

LLOYD MAYBERRY GOES TO THE PENITENTIARY.

Constable A. C. Shelton left at noon today for Eddyville with Lloyd Mayberry, the negro, who shot the constable in the hand during the celebration on August 8. Mayberry was sentenced at the last term of court, but was held here to serve a jail sentence which had been imposed upon him by the county court. His penitentiary sentence is two years.

All business along the river will stop tomorrow at the ways and at the day docks. Captain Mike Williams, of the ways, said that business was so good he thought he could take a day off for thanksgiving. Captain Taylor, of the dry docks, says tomorrow is his day and there will be no work.

The Reeder will be let in the water today from off the ways. The Bluespot after coaling this morning left for the Cumberland after ties.

The Lyda will probably get away for the Tennessee today or tomorrow.

The Pavonia went up the Tennessee after ties.

The Vincennes got away for the Tennessee today after lumber and ties.

The Butteroff left today at noon for the Cumberland river on a trip to Nashville.

The Inverness has gone after ties for the Ayer-Lord Tie company up the Cumberland.

The Henrietta is due today from the Tennessee.

The Clyde will leave tonight for the Tennessee.

The George Cowling is making her regular trips today, but will take a rest tomorrow.

The Saltito is due out of the Tennessee bound for St. Louis.

The U. S. boat E. A. Woodruff, a snag puller, is tied up in the docks. The Eagle got away today for Vicksburg after a tow of logs.

The river stage, 11.4, a rise of 0.2.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville, not much change during the next 12 hours, then rise for several days. At Mt. Vernon, will continue falling during the next 24 hours. At Paducah will rise during the next two days. At Cairo, no material change tonight, followed by a slow rise.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, will continue rising during the next two days, passing above 8 feet at Florence tonight.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo, will remain about stationary during the next 36 hours.

New Stations Reduce Fare.

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 27.—An order will be issued tomorrow by the corporation commission requiring Oklahoma railroads engaged in interstate business to build stations at all state lines. The interstate passenger rate is 3 cents, in spite of the fact that in many states the maximum rate is the same as in Oklahoma—2 cents.

Unable to change the schedule, the corporation commissioners have resorted to the state line station plan as the only solution.

At these intersection stations passengers shall be allowed to buy tickets at the local rates and check their baggage.

Ignorance may not be bliss, but it generates a lot of contentment.

THE DEPOSED PRESIDENT OF THE BROOKLYN BANK.

New York, Nov. 27.—Howard Maxwell, deposed president of the Brooklyn bank of Brooklyn, who was under indictment for grand larceny and forgery and was last night released from jail on $20,000 bail, committed suicide today. He cut his throat and left wrist with a razor and pen-knife in the bath room of his home in Brooklyn.

Maxwell, who was locked up last Thursday, had left his humiliation keenly and during his incarceration had appeared hopelessly despondent.

Bubonic Plague Is Abating.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 27.—The plague situation shows much improvement and only a few verified cases remain under treatment. The following figures were given out by the board of health today:

Verified cases 101
Deaths 63
Discharged as cured 34
Verified cases under treatment 8
Suspected cases 39

Solons See Eastern Menace.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 27.—Filipino independence was urged by congressmen from three states, who addressed a mass meeting in Faneuil hall. Representative Slayden, of Texas, said the islands should be made independent at once to prevent possible war with Japan. Representative Blount, of Georgia, and McCall, of Massachusetts, also spoke.
